THE NEW CONTRIBUTIONS OF JD DESSERTATION

JD Dissertation title: The Fundamental breach of contract under Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods 1980 (CISG) and the orientation of improving the relevant provisions under Vietnamese law.

Major: Economic Law

Code: 62.38.50.01

JD Candidate: Vo Sy Manh

Scientific Supervisor: Prof, Dr, Mai Hong Quy

The summary of the new contributions of JD dissertation to theory and practices is below:

Firstly, the dissertation is the first systematic and comprehensive research on theory and practices in related to the fundamental breach of contract under CISG in comparison with Vietnamese law.

Secondly, the dissertation analyses and evaluates objectively provisions and its applied practices on the fundamental breach of contract on international sale of goods under CISG such as the determination of the factors establishing the fundamental breach of contract and the remedies for fundamental breach of contract. By this way, the dissertation provides the overall and more specific look into fundamental breach of contract under CISG in comparison with the related provisions of Vietnamese law to find out the unreasonableness and inadequacy of provisions on the fundamental breach under Vietnamese law.

Thirdly, the dissertation gives recommendations on amending the relevant provisions on the fundamental breach of contract under Vietnamese law on the basis the CISG provisions on the same issues to enhance its feasibility under Vietnamese law.

Finally, the proposed orientations and recommendations of the dissertation (to amend the provisions on and the remedies for the fundamental breach of contract under Vietnamese Commercial Law; to supplement the anticipatory fundamental breach of contract...) will be a scientific basis for improving the provisions on the fundamental breach of contract under Vietnamese law, thereby to contribute to the suitability of the legal framework for conclusion and implementation of contract on international sale of goods and to facilitate the dispute settlement of contract for sale of goods in particular, sale contracts in general.
